Dear Dancers and Families,

We hope you are all well.

We are excited by the prospect of offering in-person classes at the studio, beginning in September. We have created a plan that puts safety for everyone at the fore-front.

Included in this mailing is a list of Procedures and Practices; in-person/on-line week-at-a-glance schedules; our brochure/registration form; class attire and rules; and class recommendations. Please read all contents thoroughly, as there are many departures from the norm.

All registrations must be received by September 1st. Tuition for all classes is, for now, calculated on a monthly basis (no punch cards, no drop-ins). Payments are made by the 1st of each month via mail or phone. We will not be taking payments or paperwork at the studio, once classes begin. Any remaining Spring '20 tuition or punch card credit will be applied.

To allow for proper spacing, classes are limited to 6 students in the small studio and 8 in the large studio. Students over the enrollment maximums will be invited to join a Zoom version of the class.

Kids Create, Jr. Hip Hop 1-2, Modern 5, and Daytime Fitness will be taught exclusively on-line, and Olivia's Hip Hop classes and Kait's Modern will be only at the studio in-person; they will not transition if we go on-line.

We were blessed to have our dear Justin Hover last year, but he will be moving to a more metropolitan area in the near future. And Crista Ordway, our office manager, will be leaving in order to care for family. They both will be missed deeply.

Registration is open upon receipt of this mailing. The registration deadline is September 1st. We are ready for whatever the coming year may bring, and we are dedicated to keeping dance and movement a part of our lives. It will lift our spirits and strengthen our bodies, come what may.

All our Best,
Allison Mann, Director and all the staff at CD&FS
